hall have received 15,000 squeezes, and they present herewith the causes of this postpenement. The plan of the Institution requires that it shall annually catract large obligations in advance of actual receipts. The great bulk of the subscribers, notwithstanding every effort on the part of the Committee to procure early sub-scriptions, do not register their names until after the last of December thus obliging the Committee to act, in the pur-chase of pictures, the contracts for engraving, and the characteristics, the contraints for engineers, and maintenance of the Free Gallery, in anticipation of an estimated number of subscribers, and making it necessary, in the course of every year, to assume some probable number as the basis of operations. The number thus fixed upon for the year 1851 was 15,000, and this was a reasonation. ble and prudent calculation, because the number in 1850 was 16,316, and until very recently there was every reason to suppose that the receipts for 1851 would be much larger. ber of the present year, the excess of subscriptions over the corresponding period in 1850, ranged between 1,506 and of September, during this favorable state of things. This is to be attributed in part to the extraordinary ex-sitement attending the visit of Kossuth, which has with-

Under these circumstances the Committee have been driven to the alternative of reducing the number of works of art for distribution, or of deferring the distribution until the full number of subscribers for whom they have been provided, has been obtained,

After mature deliberation, they have decided on the latter course, as best calculated to meet the wishes of the subscribers, promote the interests of the Institution, and avoid the pecuniary embarrassment which would result from distributing a larger number of pictures than the re-Ever that they will be sustained in it by every honorable and intelligent member of the institution. The Committee take this opportunity of adverting to at-tacks, which have recently been made upon them through

The Managers believe that the great lody of the people are its friends, and that they will continue their support.
